ProMedica – Sylvania, OH

ProMedica Health System, ranked one of the nation's most integrated health systems, was formed in 1986 and is a Toledo, Ohio based, not-for-profit health care organization.

General Project Scope

Homrich performed demolition of an 84,000 square foot, (7) story steel framed lift slab construction. Homrich designed a demolition methodology system to demolish the building while the adjacent hospital remained active throughout the entire demolition of this project. This project included processing, preparing, removal and recycling of all demolition materials at a local project site. Approximately 1,000 tons of scrap, as well as, ferrous and non-ferrous materials were recycled during the course of the project. 12,000 tons of concrete was crushed and removed.
